

NoduMax is a product developed through the new IITA Business Incubation Platform

NoduMax is a new legume inoculation technology developed at the IITA Business Incubation Platform.

NoduMax is intended for soybean crops so that they are better able to access nitrogen from the air. Application of Nodumax in conjunction with recommended fertilizers, results in 450 kg of increased soybean yield per ha.

NoduMax is inexpensive, costing under-N-500 per 100 g package, enough to inoculate 10 to 15 kg of seed and plant 0.25 ha. One hectare requires five or six packages, or – about N- 2500 per ha.

NoduMax is easy to apply (above). Every package contains inoculant, seed adhesive and simple instructions in four languages, English, Hausa, Ibo and Yoruba.

NoduMax is environmentally friendly and is based upon the activities of beneficial rhizobia bacteria. It is non-toxic and improves soil fertility and crop residues.

NoduMax offers opportunity for investment in agricultural biotechnology through the IITA Business Incubation Platform. Inquiries are welcome.

Do not hesitate..... Inoculate!

NoduMax is produced at a modern facility at Ibadan, Nigeria using advanced technology. NoduMax is packed into boxes of 50 one-hundred gram packets for distribution through developmental and agrodealer networks

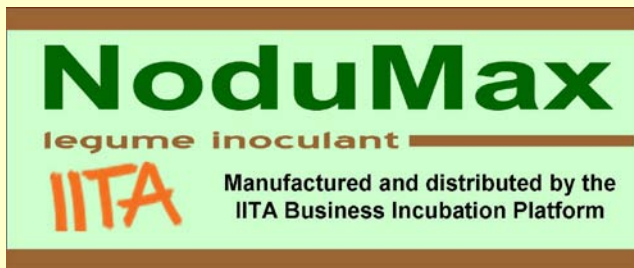

Inoculated soybeans are green and vigorous

Soybeans without inoculation are pale and weak
